heard the charges preferred against the law and the Commission," he said, "and thought it best for all concerned to enter into a complete investigation."

We feel very sure that the law and the Commission will have fair play at the hands of Mr. Lehlbach as chairman of the investigating committee.

Congressman Forney III.
Congressman William Henry Forney of Jacksonville, Alabama, is very sick with pneumonia at the Metropolitan.

His condition to-day is very serious, but he is still conscious and hopes to pass the winter in St. Louis, a native of Lincoln, Mo., but was reared in Alabama, where he received a classical education and became a lawyer.

He was a soldier in the war with Mexico. When the late war began he was a member of the Alabama Legislature and was one of the first to follow the advice of Wm. L. Yancy, and urged the immediate secession of his adopted State. He became a brigadier-general in the Confederate Army and sadly gave up at Appomattox.

Turning to the pursuits of peace, he was a State Senator in 1865, and served in Alabama was reconstructed. He came to the United States in 1868, and represents a district of about 12,000 voters, of which he has always had two-thirds.

Sapped by the Women.
Jay F. Durham, formerly a popular correspondent, now a railroad man at Louisville, held a reception in the lobby of the House press gallery yesterday.

No sooner had he emerged from the press gallery into the lobby near the entrance of the House than he was surrounded by a bevy of pretty women, backed up in a committee-room doorway, and was held there by their glittering eyes and flying tongues.

He was spellbound, as it were. No doubt the fair creatures wanted free transportation. "There's a dear, Jay."
